

David Callahan, Resolute Visuals

David Callahan is a filmmaker, videographer and the founder and president of Resolute Visuals. Many of David's youthful passions have guided his career. An interest in aviation led to an FAA drone license, and a passion for photography led to an interest in cinematography in his early 20's. David has thirty years of experience in Television and Film and his work has earned clients three Emmy nominations with an Emmy award in 2015 for the Oklahoma Tourism Spring 2015 campaign.

World-wide travel and a passion for storytelling have marked David's career since the early 90's. Traveling to over 30 countries, 25 for film/photography, has given David a wide perspective from which to pull. His artistic style and passion for storytelling has led to impressive opportunities.
